The Silent Crowd at Yizkor Time

The synagogue has a crowded feel on the holidays and it's not just because there are so many in attendance. On these sacred days we not only feel the presence of all the people who are here, but that of those who are missing as well. At times like these we feel in our hearts and souls the presence of those who are no longer with us. We feel their presence because we are so acutely aware of their absence.

And so we come to shul to reconnect with our community, to combat loneliness and loss with togetherness. Our rededication to the highest communal values and ideals instilled in us by our loved ones is our greatest tribute to them. We bring what was best in their lives back into ours when we join together in prayer.

When we stand together as one, we are surrounded by a community of souls that encompasses both the living and the dead, the past and the present. We sense their smiles, we hear their voices, and we feel their guiding hands all ushering us into a New Year full of life, happiness and hope.

May the souls of all our loved ones lost inspire us to lead good and worthy lives as lasting tribute to their memories.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

ה' מה־אדם ותדעהו בן־אנוש ותחשבהו :
אדם להבל דמה ימיו כצל עובר :
בבקר יציץ וחלף לערב ימולל ויבש :
למנות ימינו כן הודע ונביא לבב חכמה :
שמרתם וראה ישר כראחרית לאיש שלום :

With each passing hour we come to realize how fragile this life truly is.
With each passing day we consider how blessed we really are.

We stand in awe of Gd's love that allows us to grow.
We wonder what we have done to deserve such graciousness.

But in the end our lives are indeed but a passing breath.
All that will remain is the shadow of where we once stood.

So we pray to you Dear Gd: Teach us to number our days.
Give us the wisdom to realize what truly matters most.

Help us to remember that integrity and honor are eternal;
Our decisions today will shape memories of us in the future.

Those whom we have loved, though now hidden from view,
Continue to guide our lives when our values mirror theirs.

When we have difficult decisions to make we call on them;
When we need love and support they are with us still.

For as long as we shall live, they will live, too.
They are forever a part of us as we remember them.

YIZKOR

When I stray from You, Adonai, my life is as death;
but when I cleave to You,
even in death I have life.

You embrace the souls of the living and the dead.

The earth inherits that which perishes.

The dust returns to dust; but the soul, which is God's, is eternal.

Adonai is compassionate to all creation, granting us a share in unending life.

God redeems our life from the grave, joining us forever in the unending chain of life.

May we preserve the memory of those we love and are now gone, through charity in deed and thought.

May we live unselfishly, in truth and love and peace, so that we will be remembered as a blessing, as we lovingly remember, this day, those who live on in our hearts.

Harlow

Backwards and Forwards

Yizkor:

Looking backward, we recall our ancestry.

Looking forward, we confront our destiny.

Looking backward, we reflect on our origins.

Looking forward, we choose our path.

Remembering that we are a tree of life, not letting go, holding on, and holding to,
we walk into an unknown,
beckoning future,
with our past beside us.

—Harold Schulweis

We Recall

Some of us recall parents who watched over us, nursed us, guided us, and sacrificed for us.

Some of us lovingly call to mind a wife, husband, or partner with whom we were truly united—in our hopes and our pains, in our failures and our achievements, in our joys and our sorrows.

Some of us remember brothers and sisters, who grew up together with us, sharing in the play of childhood, in the youthful adventure of discovering life's possibilities, bound to us by a heritage of family tradition and by years of togetherness and love.

Some of us call to mind children, entrusted to us too briefly, to whom we gave our loving care and from whom we received a trust that enriched our lives.

So many of us recall beloved relatives and friends whose affection and devotion enhanced our lives, and whose visible presence will never return to cheer, encourage, or support us.

Though they are gone, we are grateful for the blessings they brought to our lives. We are sustained and comforted by the thought that their presence in our lives remains an enduring blessing that we can bequeath to others.

We can show our devotion to them by our devotion to those ideas that they cherished.

O God of love, make us worthy of the love we have received by teaching us to love You with all our heart and with all our soul and with all our might, and to spread the light of Your divine love on all whose lives touch ours.

Give us strength to live faithfully, for we are cheered by our confidence that You will not permit our lives to be wasted, but will bring all our worthy strivings to live on, even as we may not see their fulfillment.

Kohn, and Ira Eisenstein

In Memory of Father

The memory of your life, dear father....., rises before me this solemn hour as I recall all the kindness, love and encouragement which you have shown me during your life. With untiring zeal you provided for my physical and spiritual needs. You rejoiced in my achievements, you guided me in my perplexities, and strengthened me in my trials and disappointments. I can pay you the tribute which you so richly deserve, by cherishing the ideals and principles you have taught me, by continuing the noble work you have left unfinished, by loyally upholding the heritage of Israel which you have transmitted unto me, and by serving my people and all who need me. Though you are gone from my physical view, the bond of love which unites us can never be severed. May the memories of your life spur me on to follow truth and righteousness. Amen

In Memory of Mother

Though we are separated, dear mother....., in this solemn hour, I call to mind the love and solitude with which you tended and watched over my childhood, ever mindful of my welfare, and ever anxious for my happiness. Many were the sacrifices you made to ennoble my heart and instruct my mind. What I achieved is because of your influence, and what I am, I have become through you. Though you are no longer physically present, the lessons that you imparted unto me shall ever remain with me.

If at times, I have failed in showing you the love and appreciation which you so worthily deserved, if I have been thoughtless and ungrateful, I ask to be forgiven. I pray that your spirit will inspire me to noble and intelligent living, so that when my days on earth are ended, and I arrive at the Throne of Mercy. I shall be deemed worthy of you, and to be reunited with you in God. Amen

In Memory of a Husband or Wife

With a sorrowing heart, O beloved....., I fondly recall your love and companionship, your tenderness and devotion, and the many comforts and joys that you brought to my life. Though death has taken you from me, the bond which unites us cannot be broken.

O God, I pray that my grief at the departure of my beloved, engender within me sympathy and kindness, understanding and helpfulness towards all mankind. Grant that the memories of my dear one impel me to seek goodness and truth, to serve Israel and humanity. Teach me by my aspirations and daily living to reflect honor upon my beloved who was dear to me in life. Be Thou my comfort and strength. Amen

In Memory of a Child

I remember in this solemn hour, beloved child....., the many joys you afforded me during your lifetime. I recall the days when I delighted in your physical and mental growth, and planned for your future. Through death has taken you from me, you are not forgotten. Your spirit is enshrined in my heart.

O Heavenly Father, I thank Thee for the precious gift which thou didst entrust to my keeping, and which in Thine infinite wisdom Thou has called back unto Thyself. Though few were the years wherein I rejoiced with my child, many were blessings the he(she) brought into my household. Teach me to live more nobly and to extend my love and devotion to other children in thankfulness for the privilege of having had and loved this child, though but for a few, brief years. Thus may his (her) soul be bound up in the bond of life and his (her) memory remain an inspiration to me.

In Memory of a Brother, Sister and Other Relatives

Dear....., I recall the many hours we spent together in happy fellowship. I shall ever hold sacred the memory of your love and loyalty. Though death has summoned you from my side, your spirit is with me. May God grant that the recollections of your life stimulate me to noble thinking and righteous living. O Lord, I put my trust in Thee who art the source of all life and my strength in sorrow. Amen

Exalted, compassionate God, grant infinite rest in Your sheltering presence, among the holy and pure, to the souls of all our beloved who have gone to their eternal home. Merciful One, we ask that our loved ones find perfect peace in Your tender embrace, their memory enduring as inspiration for commitment to their ideals and integrity in our lives. May their souls thus be bound up in the bond of life. May they rest in peace. And let us say: Amen.

‘We Remember Them’ by Sylvan Kamens & Rabbi Jack Riemer

At the rising sun and at its going down;

We remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter;

We remember them.

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring;

We remember them.

At the blueness of the skies and in the warmth of summer;

We remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of the autumn;

We remember them.

At the beginning of the year and when it ends;

We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live, for they are now a part of us as

We remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength;

We remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart;

We remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make;

We remember them.

When we have joy we crave to share;

We remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs;

We remember them.

For as long as we live, they too will live, for they are now a part of us as,

We remember them.

PSALM 23

A Psalm of David

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul;
He guideth me in straight paths for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil, for thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;
Thou has anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

A MEDITATION

BEFORE THE MOURNER'S KADDISH

Memory is the bridge that links the living and the dead. They are not wholly dead whom we remember, whose spirit continues to live as an influence in our lives. This is why we remember the anniversaries (yahrzeit) of our departed. This is why we also perform a special service of remembrance during the first year of bereavement.

The memorial prayer is in part an act of reaching out to God with the pain of our loss, so as to find comfort and consolation. In renewing our trust in God's existence and his love for us, we become fortified to face life and its demands, despite our grief.

Our memorial prayer also gives direction to the emotions engendered by bereavement. We cannot undo the inevitable fact that we are mortal and therefore subject to a termination of our earthly existence. But if the termination of a life that was precious to us induces us to think more deeply about our own lives, then our grief is not a futile emotion. We can see more through a tear than through a telescope.

The Jewish observance of a memorial to our departed directs us to channel the emotions engendered by bereavement into a greater love of God, a greater devotion to the Torah, a greater concern for the well-being of our fellow man.

The Kaddish is only one prayer in the entire service. However it brings the meaning of the services to its highest climax. It proclaims the majesty of God, and thus assures us of His care to sustain us in our sorrow. And the recognition of God's majesty implies the highest goals for living to which a man may be summoned.

A Prayer for Our Soldiers

Dear Heroes

As we gather together to recall the lives of those who have left us, recall of the words of a true hero of Jewish People, Hannah Senesh. She was a Hungarian Jew who move to Israel before the founding of the State. Hannah was one of thirty seven Jewish men and women who were trained by the British Army to parachute into Yugoslavia during the Second World War. Her assignment was to help save the Jews of Hungary who were about to be deported to the German death camp at Auschwitz. Hannah was arrested at the Hungarian border, imprisoned and tortured, but she refused to reveal details of her mission and was eventually tried and executed by firing squad. To this day she is regarded as a national heroine in Israel, where several streets and a kibbutz are name after her. Most famously, she is remembered for her poetry.

Hannah Senesh wrote prophetically, "There are stars whose light reaches the earth only after they themselves have disintegrated. And there are individuals whose memory lights the world after they have passed from it. These lights shine even in the darkest night and illumine our path..."

Today we honor the heroes of our lives, those who gave our lives meaning and direction. Their light continues to illumine our path, the glow of their eternal presence is felt even in our darkest nights. They may not have been renowned for their poetry or acts of death-defying courage, but their lives enriched ours, their character shaped ours, their efforts helped to make us who we are today. We sense their smiles, we hear their voices, and we feel their guiding hands ushering us into a New Year full of life, happiness and hope.

May the souls of all our loved ones past inspire us to lead good and worthy lives in lasting tribute to their memories.
